

ELEMENTIS

A global specialty chemicals company

Media Contacts: Laura M. Pennino for Elementis, 281 286 9398 office, 713 419 1776 mobile
lp@penninoandpartners.com

Elementis Strengthens Distributor Network to Support North and Latin American Coatings Customers

EAST WINDSOR, N. J. (November 16, 2020) – Demonstrating its ongoing commitment to customer satisfaction and strengthening customer relationships, Elementis reorganized its distributor network in North and Latin America. Effective December 1, 2020, Elementis customers in Canada will be serviced by Brenntag Canada. Expanding its current geography, The Maroon Group will now service Elementis customers throughout the entire United States. Andes Chemical Corp. will service Elementis customers in the Caribbean and Central America.

A global specialty chemicals company, Elementis offers an extensive range of waterborne and solventborne specialty additives that are used for the coatings, inks, adhesive, sealants, architectural and construction industry sectors.

This new distributor network provides a broader range of manufacturers with improved customer response rate, technical support, testing capability and access to Elementis' leading coatings technologies and solutions.

"We look forward to working with Brenntag Canada, The Maroon Group and Andes Chemical Corp. as we work to enhance our focus and service to customers in this region," Troy Russell, director, Elementis Coatings Americas.

About these Distributors

Brenntag Canada is a subsidiary of the Brenntag Group, the global market leader in chemical and ingredients distribution. Brenntag offers comprehensive solutions as well as individual chemical products throughout Canada with multiple warehouses strategically located and a sales team footprint with national reach.

Maroon Group is a leading specialty chemical distributor with national coverage in the United States based in Avon, Ohio. Since 1977, Maroon has supplied specialty additives, resins, pigments, and packaging to North American manufacturers in the plastics, CASE, composites, graphic arts, rubber, and lubricants industries.

Andes Chemical Corp is a provider of specialty chemicals based in Miami, FL but with local presence in several key Latin American markets as well as the Caribbean. With a world class line card and clear focus on Latin America they seek to utilize pioneering solutions and logistics as a competitive advantage and have become a preferred partner for coatings manufactures and suppliers.

About Elementis

Elementis is a global specialty chemical company listed on the London Stock Exchange. The company is known for its expertise in rheology and natural bio-functional ingredients and owns the world's largest source of high-quality hectorite natural clay. Elementis focuses on scientific innovation and development of products that enhance the performance and value of customers' products in the personal care, coatings and energy markets. In 2018, Elementis acquired Mondo Minerals, a leading high-performance, high-quality talc supplier. Please visit www.elementis.com for more information.